CURE FOR WORMS.

B. A. FAHNESTOCK'S VERMIFUGE, prepared at the subscriber's Wholesale and Retail Drug Warehouse, corner of Sixth and Wood streets, Pittsburgh, Penn'a.

This preparation is confidently recommended to the public, as an effectual remedy for expelling Worms from the system. It has already been extensively used in this county, and the proprietor has ascertained from particular inquiry, that it has not failed to produce the most salutary effect, in every instance in which it was administered—and in many other cases, after every other remedy had failed. It is mild in its operation, and may be administered with perfect safety to the most delicate infant.

The following testimony of its effects is offered to the public:—

"Pittsburgh, April 1st, 1830.

"We the subscribers do certify, that we have used in our families B. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge, and recommend it to the public, as the most effectual medicine for expelling worms from the system, that has ever come within our knowledge."

Mrs. Anderson, Fourth street.
Samuel Bright, Plum township, Allegheny co.
John Morrow, Wilkins township, Allegheny co.
Robert Gray, Plum township, Allegheny co.
Joseph Anderson, Wilkins township.
John Stuart, Wilkins township.

I do certify that a child of mine, aged 3 years, had been for some time afflicted with worms, and having tried every remedy without effect, at length used B. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge, three tea spoonfuls of which caused it to discharge 138 worms. It has since continued free from any symptoms of worms. JOHN BENSON,
Wilkins township, Allegheny county.
May 5, 1830.

I do certify that a child of mine, aged 5 years, by using one bottle of B. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge, discharged several worms, some of which were 12 inches long.
WM. M'CARTNEY, Bayardstown.
May 17, 1830.

I do certify that I have used B. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge in my family, after using various other worm medicines without effect. Three of my children, after using the Vermifuge, discharged upwards of 300 worms.

WE the subscribers do certify, that we have used and examined a number of FILES, manufactured in this city, by S. It is scarcely necessary to remind any one, that nothing but good Steel can make good Files. The Steel from which these Files are made, is manufactured here, by S. Broadmeadow & Co. and is equal to English Blister Steel, and sold at 12 1-2 cents per pound. They also manufacture Common Steel, which is sold at 8 cents per pound.

JEFFERSON MEDICAL COLLEGE.—The Jefferson Medical College was instituted in Philadelphia, in 1825, and during its first session, was endowed by an act of the Legislature of Pennsylvania, with power to confer degrees in Medicine, and with all the privileges and prerogatives of similar institutions, in our own country and in Europe.

Since its foundation nearly 600 Students have attended the respective courses of Lectures, and of this number, 145 from various sections of the United States, the Canadas, West Indies and Europe, have been admitted to the Degree of Doctor of Medicine.

The 6th Session of the College will commence on the 1st Monday of November next, and it is believed, under the most favorable auspices; every obstacle to its further advancement having been removed, and such measures adopted by the Board of Trustees, as will give a new impulse to the exertions of the Faculty. Among these measures, it is thought proper to specify particularly, the appointment of Profesor Drake, of Cincinnati, to the Chair of the Practice of Medicine. His acknowledged reputation as a Lecturer, and more especially his practical acquaintance with the diseases most prevalent in the Southern and Western sections of our country, in which a majority of the Graduates in Medicine may be expected to locate themselves, must greatly enhance the value of his instructions.

The additions which have been made to the Anatomical Cabinet, with the facilities afforded for dissection and demonstration, are such as will bear comparison with those of the oldest Medical School on this side the Atlantic.

In all other respects it is confidently believed, it is not surpassed by any of its sister Institutions, with all of which, as far as is known, it is placed on a footing of perfect equality,—a course of Lectures in one, being held equivalent to a course on the same branches, in every other.

The Alms House and Hospital of the city afford opportunities to the Student of acquiring clinical instruction, and hours are appropriated to this purpose. An infirmary or diseases of the eye is also connected with the College, under the direction of the Professor of Surgery, who will operate in the presence of the class, where this is practicable.

The following is the organization of the Medical Faculty,—viz:

Anatomy—By Samuel M'Clellan, M. D.
Materia Medica and Obstetrics—By John Eberle, M. D.
Chemistry—By Jacob Green, M. D.
Theory and Practice of Medicine—By Daniel Drake, M. D.
Surgery—By George M'Clellan, M. D.
Institutes of Medicine, Medical Jurisprudence, and the Diseases of Women and Children—By B. Rush Rhees, M. D.

By order of the faculty,
SAMUEL M'CLELLAN, Dean.

Poetry.

WOMAN'S INCONSTANCY.

BY SIR ROBERT AYTON.

I lov'd thee once, I'll love no more,
Thine be the grief, as is the blame;
Thou art not what thou wast before,
What reason I should be the same?
He that can love, unlov'd again,
Hath better store of love than brain;
God send me love my debts to pay,
While unthrifts fool their love away.

Nothing could have my love o'erthrown,
If thou had'st still continued mine,
Yes, if thou hadst remained my own,
I might perchance have yet been thine;
But thou thy freedom didst recall,
That it thou mightst elsewhere enthral;
And then how could I but disdain
A captive's captive to remain!

When new desires had conquer'd thee,
And chang'd the object of thy will,
It had been lethargy in me,
Not constancy, to love thee still;
Yes it had been a sin to go
And prostitute affection so;
Since we are taught no prayers to say
To such as must to others pray.

Yet do you glory in thy choice—
Thy choice, of his good fortune boast;
I'll neither grieve nor yet rejoice
To see him gain what I have lost;
The height of my disdain shall be
To laugh at him, to blush for thee,
To love thee still, but go no more
A begging at a beggar's door.

TO MARGARET.

Margaret, we never met before,
And, Margaret, we may meet no more:
What shall I say at parting?
Scarce half a moon has run its race,
Since first I saw your fairy face,
Around this gay and giddy place,
Sweet smiles and blushes darting.
Yet from my heart, I freely tell,
I cannot help but wish you well.

I dare not wish you stores of wealth,
A troop of friends, unfailing health,
And freedom from affliction!
I dare not wish you beauty's prize,
Carnation lips and bright blue eyes!
They speak thro' tears, they breathe thro' sighs
Then hear my benediction.
Of these good things be you possest,
Just in the measure God thinks best.

But, dearest Margaret, may you be
All that His eye delights to see;
All that He loves and blesses;
The Lord in darkness be your light,
Your strength in sickness, shield in fight,
Your health, your riches, and your might,
Your comfort in distresses;
The hope of every future breath,
And your eternal joy in death.

Foreign News.

From Poulson's American Daily Advertiser.

LATE FROM EUROPE.

By the ship Alabama, Capt. Price, arrived at New York from Liverpool, papers of that place to the 18th, and from London to the 17th ult. inclusive, have been received.

The London Courier had announced the arrest of Polignac, the news of which was said to have been received by an express from Dover; but the Morning Chronicle of the 16th, says the information was not only incorrect, but reiterates its belief that the Ex-Minister was actually in England, and had set off from London on a visit to the Duke of Wellington.

Mr. Brougham, at the Election dinner at York, did not scruple to mix up the Duke of Wellington with the Polignac Administration; and when an expression of doubt was manifested by some of the persons present, he boldly affirmed that the Duke entertained a strong partiality not a twelvemonth ago, and insinuated that orders had been sent to the Custom House to violate the law in behalf of the Great Criminal, which argued a sympathy with the violators of constitutions and murderers of the people, not to be accounted for in any other way than by supposing that the partiality still existed. What Mr. Brougham says on this subject is well deserving of notice.

The principal subject of interest in the Paris papers of the 11th August, is said to have been the charge of high treason preferred against the Ministers, by M. Salverte, in a formal speech on the day previous. The cry of seconded was heard from all parts of the Chamber when he had concluded. There had been on the 12th also a movement of surprise in the Chamber of Peers, where a question deeply affecting the commercial body of Paris, was brought forward, professedly under the sanction of Baron Louis, the new Minister of Finance, to which the Minister replied that he had never exchanged a word with the mover.

The movements in France had produced some ferment in the Southern parts of the Netherlands, and considerable panic in the German States.—The Grand Duke of Baden, on learning what had happened in Paris, ordered the bridge of Kehl to be destroyed. Bank Shares fell at Vienna more than six per cent. The policy Prussia would pursue could not be ascertained. According to the Bordeaux papers there was a rising in several of the provinces of Spain, but the accuracy of the accounts was doubted.

Intelligence had been received at Marseilles that the French army at Algiers, on hearing the account of the revolution in Paris, unanimously gave in their adhesion to the new government. A few old soldiers exclaimed "Long live Napoleon 2d!" This cry, however, was soon drowned.

Gen. Bertrand is appointed Chief of the Polytechnic School.

Count de Mole, the new Minister of Foreign Affairs, has traveled much.

The Duke de Brogie, the Minister of the Interior, is editor of Le Globe.

The Duchess of Angouleme has been heard to exclaim "in three months, my nephew shall be on the throne!"

Benjamin Constant has been appointed President of the Committee of Legislation and Administration of Justice in the Council of State.

All the letters from Algiers were filled with complaints and reproaches against the Commander in Chief.

From what was known of the resolutions and instructions of the Foreign Ambassadors resident at the Court of France, no interruption was apprehended of the friendly relations of that country with the other Powers of Europe.

Charles X. had written to William IV. to inform him that he was going to Cherbourg, and requested him to put an English frigate at his disposal to convey him to England. The English Ministry returned an answer to Charles X. that the friendly relations existing between France and England would not allow his requests being acceded to.—[Doubtful.]

Perfect tranquillity prevailed at Toulon. The Algerine treasure remained in the road, in the custody of the commanders of the ships. The tri-colored flag was displayed there in every place.

Milan was announced by letters from Geneva to be in full insurrection.

The words Excellence and Monseigneur are hereafter to be expunged from the vocabulary of office, and plain Monsieur substituted for them.

It was said that the Jesuits had destroyed their house at Achcal, under the pretext of a popular commotion, in order to destroy their archives.

The Morning Chronicle says, there was a report that Prince Metternich had poisoned himself on receiving the news of the French revolution.

The great majority of the French Chamber of Peers comprising many of the old noblesse, had sworn fealty to the new Charter and Louis Philip First.

Some futile attempts were made to raise the standard for the Bordeaux party in La Vendee, and elsewhere. Every thing in France is settling down in a perfect order.

By the ordinance of Louis Philippe, the ancient seals of state are suppressed, and the seals are hereafter to represent the arms of Orleans, surrounded with the devices and the legend "Louis Philippe, King of the French." The royal family continue the names and arms of Orleans, and the Duke of Chartres takes that title.

Vice Admiral Duperre is raised to the rank of Admiral.

It is asserted that Charles X. has conceived the project of throwing himself into Orleans, with the last troops remaining about his person. He wished, it was said, to form in that town a rallying point, by means of an intercourse, which he could have easily established with La Vendee. But the patriotism of the people of Orleans defeated this plan. At the first report of these news they took up arms, and placed the brave Gen. Roche at their head, whose devotedness to the cause of liberty was perfectly well known. The prefect, who had collected at Orleans the gendarmerie of the department, and a corps of Swiss, gave up all idea of resistance, which he deemed impossible. He entered into a parley with General Roche, to whom it is owing that the project of Charles X. failed, without any previous effusion of blood.

PARIS, Aug. 12.—The King has appointed the following Ministry:—Foreign Affairs, Count de Mole; of War, General Gerard; of Finance, Baron Louis; of State, Duke de Broglie; of the Interior, Guizott; of Justice, General Sebastiani.

French Funds rose from 74 to 80 on the new accession—5 per cents. to 104.

Brussels papers had reached London to the 4th of August. The Eclaireur Politique gives, under the head Cologne, a cabinet order of the King of Prussia, relative to the Autumnal Review, in which the King condemns the conduct of the Ex-King of France, and says that he had been several times warned by him (the King of Prussia) of the inevitable consequences of a coup d'etat. The exiles are refused admission into the Prussian territories. The Morning Chronicle considers this news apocryphal—and so do we.

A letter from Madrid of August 7th, states that that capital was in the greatest confusion, and the King and his family were in the greatest anxiety. The Treasury was nearly exhausted. Messengers were sent to all the officers, civil and military, requiring them to prevent the circulation of the news from France. The Guarda-costas were universally ordered to be on the alert.

The Spanish Ambassador in London has refused passports to Spain, on the ground that he has received positive information that parties are going there to assist in revolutionizing the country.

The speculators upon the London Exchange profess not to like the aspect of English politics. They say that the Duke of Wellington's administration will not last six months, and the opinion is entertained by many persons not connected with the Stock Exchange.

The first ship bearing the flag of the U. States of North America, arrived at Odessa on the 6th of July, from Constantinople. It is the Smyrna brig.

The Manchester trade was good. The demand for Cotton of all description had increased.

It is calculated that the Ministry will lose from 30 to 40 votes by the new election.

The Mayor of Liverpool was opposed to a meeting relative to the late events in France.

On the 6th ult. 140 persons dined together at the London Tavern, on Mr. Cobbett's notification, to celebrate the French revolution, Cobbet in the chair. He said it was the happiest day of his life, and read an address from the reformers of London to the poor people of Paris, which was unanimously adopted.

A challenge was sent to Mr. Brougham on the 11th ult. by Martin Stapylton, Esq. in consequence of some expressions used by the former gentlemen in a speech at York, in which the latter supposed he had applied to him the terms 'paltry insect.'—Mr. Brougham disclaimed any intention of so doing. So the matter ended.

Letters from Algiers, to the 20th July, complain bitterly about the victualing service. Dysentery exercises its ravages, and the population are on the worst terms with the troops.

The Commander in Chief has been attacked by the Cabyles on an excursion to Bileda, a small town in the plain of Mitidja, at the foot of Mount Atlas, about 10 leagues from Algiers. This escort, about 1000 men strong, lost 100 men, in killed and wounded, on the retreat. M. Sulan, the General's Aid-de-Camp, was mortally wounded by a ball in the beginning of the action.

The Cabyles, though repelled by cavalry and artillery, returned nevertheless to the charge, being protected by the bushes. These negro Bedouins came down from the mountains, and displayed much intrepidity in this affair.

Gen Bourmont's son is gone to receive the submission of Oran.

Reports not confirmed by the latest papers, and in fact rendered incredible by them, state, that the French army had lost 10,000 men in conflict with the Moors. Disease had unquestionably attacked them. There are also rumors that other 10,000 men on the frontiers of Spain had hoisted the tri-colored cockade, about which there is no certain information.

It was rumored that an insurrection has broken out in Biscay, and that the insurgents have made themselves masters of St. Sebastian, and are marching upon the provinces contiguous to Madrid.

A postscript to the Journal du Commerce of the 14th, says: It is believed that the government has received a telegraphic despatch, announcing the embarkation of Charles X. this very day at Cherbourg.

PARIS, Aug. 11.—"Every thing here has subsided into the most perfect tranquility and good order. The King has, if possible, become more popular since his accession to the throne, and nothing could exceed in enthusiasm the reception which his Majesty, the Queen, and their children, met from the thousands who surrounded the Palais Royal, on the day that the 'King of the French' took the oath to rule under the new Charter.

"Gen. Lafayette, whom the late events seem to have restored to youth, is seen every where. Yesterday, at 4 o'clock, he went to the temporary hospital, (Ambulance,) established in the Rue des Pyramides, by the care of Doctors Martinet and Andrieux, and M. Degenetais, the apothecary. The scene was very affecting, when the General, accompanied by George Washington Lafayette, his son, in the midst of a numerous staff, went through the different rooms, filled with the brave men who have conquered for us our liberty at the price of their blood. The General was received by Messrs. Martinet and Degenetais, who presented to him the physicians attached to the Ambulance, Drs. Andrieux, Goupil, Delanglard, Sellier, Fisher, an English surgeon, and M. Eroullebois, who has the superintendence of it. This distinguished citizen, after having addressed some words of consolation to each of the wounded men, expressed to them his high satisfaction at the proof of patriotism which they had given, and retired in the midst of the blessings of the patients, and of the numerous citizens who thronged the way. On his return, the General offered his hand in the most friendly manner to the physicians, and to M. Degenetais, and said, "Gentlemen, I thank you in the name of the country, for having preserved to it citizens who form its strength and its glory." Out of seventy wounded, the greater part of them severely, who were received into this Ambulance, not a single one has died, and all are in a fair way of being cured.

"The total number of killed and wounded, during the 27th, 28th, and 29th of July, is from seven to eight thousand, reckoning both the citizens of Paris and the Royal army. As the combatants encountered each other very closely, and were very near each other, the wounds are in general very severe, and contrary to what is usually the case in battles the number of dead exceeds that of the wounded. Thus the rights of the eldest branch of the Bourbons have been bathed with the blood of 8000 Frenchmen, and their name is in some sort buried in this frightful hecatomb."

IMPORTANT INTELLIGENCE FROM SPAIN.

The following information, says the London Sun of Monday last, has come to hand this morning, and is contained in a letter addressed to a Spanish Officer, dated Madrid, Aug. 7:—"Madrid is now in the greatest confusion, owing to the great political change that has taken place in Paris. Last night an express arrived here with an account of the proceedings of the 27th, 28th, and 29th ult. in France, and the complete overthrow of the Bourbons. The French nation, notwithstanding the horrors which we suffered during their tyrannical reign in our country, must now be considered el primero nacion del mundo. Paris has rendered itself a modern Rome.—Charles encouraged the Jesuits, and by the appointment of ministers whose names were execrated, has forfeited his throne. The result of the late transactions in Paris created the greatest feelings of enthusiasm in the bosoms of the liberal and proud Castilians. It is the sole topic of conversation on the Prade and in the Cafes. The King, and the whole of the Royal Family, were horror struck at the intelligence of the downfall of their Royal relative, and the greatest anxiety shows itself about the court.

"To-day their Majesties leave here for the Escurial, where the bigoted Ferdinand will have time to reflect on the unsettled state of his government. The condition of affairs here is dreadful in the extreme: business is at a stand still, and the country in a complete agitation. The Carlists are doing every thing in their power to overthrow the present order of things. Conspiracies are forming in every part of the kingdom. Andalusia and Catalonia are ready to support a change which might lead to a more liberal form of Government. The Royal coffers are nearly empty, and the revenue has fallen off considerably in the last year. The officers of all the regiments, excepting the Royal Guard, are getting in arrears of pay, and much dissatisfaction is beginning to show itself; and, depend upon it, should any event take place, which is more probable than you may imagine, the crisis will be a fearful one. We have no Guards, Swisses or foreign troops here to fire on the people as in Paris. Orders have just been sent off by the government to the justices of the peace, alcaldes and governors of the principal towns throughout Spain, to prevent the propagation of the news of the glorious revolution in France, fearing lest some feeling should show itself. Since the death of the King's aunt, the old Dowager Queen of Portugal, and the execrable Marquis de Chaves, her great supporter, Ferdinand has evinced symptoms of cowardice and tyranny seldom to be met with. The Queen, who is in that state that "ladies wish to be who love their lords," is in very precarious health. Great events will take place here shortly, and much is expected from abroad."

From the N. Y. Journal of Commerce, Sept. 22.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—It is said that the present King of France refuses to accept the income given to the late King by the nation, and to be willing to take only 6,000,000 of francs (about £240,000 sterling.) This is very probable, for, as Duke of Orleans, he had already a kingly fortune, which, from the great economy of his family, and the circumstance of his investigating regularly the accounts of his stewards, was increasing rapidly.—We have heard the Duke's income estimated at upwards of 30,000,000 of francs annually. Of course the sum fixed by the State for the present King, at his request, would not be binding upon his successor.

From the Journal des Doats, Aug. 14.

INTERESTING FROM ALGIERS.

"ALGIERS, July 31.—On the 28th of July two French soldiers were pinioned in a cave by the Algerines. At the same time a band of insurgents attacked the gate Bab-Azoun, and massacred nineteen of our soldiers. The French flew to arms and surrounded the rebels, one of whom, through fear of death, made important disclosures. He has declared that a conspiracy has been forming for some time, and was immediately about to break out—that 60,000 Bedouins from the interior were from day to day expected at the gates of Algiers, and that whilst our troops were making head against them, the Moors and Arabs of the city were to arm for the purpose of massacreing the French. The truth of these disclosures had been confirmed. A depot of arms has been discovered at the house of an inhabitant, and we are assured that 10,000 pistols have been found, which were destined for a renewal of the scene of the Sicilian vespers.

"On the morning of the 29th forty of the insurgents were executed. In order to intimidate the people, and prevent another rebellion, the French have turned on the city several pieces of cannon of the upper battery of the Mole, where the light is, and which have been daily directed towards the sea.

"The General in Chief has given orders that all the little garrisons distributed in the forts rather too distant, and for whose security any fears might be entertained, should fall back on the city.—The garrison of the peninsula of Sidi Ferruch, composed in a great measure of marines, is included among them. We have demolished the fort and levelled the entrenchments and fortifications, taken away the chevaux de frise, and abandoned all the baggage. It was a question whether we should not blow up the towers called Torre Chica, but after having considered it it was useful for communicating with vessels at sea, it was agreed to leave it standing.

"The 17th regiment of the line, which occupied a fort on the sea coast about four leagues from the city, has been attacked by a party of between 1,800 to 2,000 Bouins. After some minutes' fighting, the regiment found itself obliged to retreat on Algiers. We are daily expecting the attack of the 60,000 Bouins. The column of 10,000 men moves round the heights to receive them. If this state things should continue, no one knows what expedition will come to. The army has already lost from 8,000 to 9,000 men killed and wanded. The dysentery continues to make progs among the land and sea troops. More than half of the crew of the ship Admiral l'Alger is sacked with it more or less severely. The sun is approaching when the navy cannot be of any use to the army, from the impossibility of the ships keeping at anchor.

"On the evening of 31st, five or six Turks, very richly clothed, came on board the Admiral's ship. One of them, a man of colossal stature, and remarkable embonpoint, appeared to be regarded with respect by others. He was the late Minister of Finance of Algiers, and he came to demand of Vice Admiral Duperre, what was instantly granted to be permission to retire to a foreign country.

"A corvette and brig of the United States of America have anchored near our Admiral's ship. It is reported that they came to be informed, if it is true that the French wish to attack Tripoli, where their Consul has been insulted as well as ours.—We are assured that such be the intention, their squadron, which is Mahon, will combine their efforts with the vessels under M. de ROSAMEL.—Nevertheless, the French have been displeased with the conduct of the Commanders of these American ships, they gave no salute, and, without communicating with the Admiral, they despatched their boat ashore. The Admiral was obliged to send quickly after them a boat, to prevent them from disembarking, and to refuse an entry to the port.

"What most increases the unpleasant feelings of our Etat Major is the circumstance of the American frigate the Java, the crew of which had last year, at Mahon, a quarrel, in which M. Meynard, an officer of the French brig Faune, was killed."

From the Gazette de France, Aug. 14.

ALGIERS, JULY 24.—(From the private correspondence of the Aviso.)—Oran, Constantia, and Bona have submitted. Troops will be sent to each of those places to occupy them. It is said that 2000 men will be sent to Oran, and as many to Bona. It is not said how many are to be sent to Constantina. It is also said that eight regiments are to be sent Algiers to form the garrison.

We are employed in clearing Sidi Ferruch, but it will not be completed. The treasure is still being marked, and they are packing up 40,000,000 in Spanish piastres, which will be sent in a few days by the Coreur steam boat carries above 14,000,000 francs. It is said that the artillery of the main will return to France between the 12th and 15th August. It is probable that if a division return it will depart at the same time, but no orders are given to this effect.

A letter from Algiers, brought by the Nestor, states that the Chief of a tribe had waited on Count Bourmont to induce him to appear with some troops in the interior, in order to reduce the Bedouin Arabs, whom turbulent Chiefs excited against the French, and who might do us a great deal of mischief if no attempt was made to subdue them. The General in Chief took a corps of 1,800 men, with some pieces of cannon, and proceeded to the interior, guided by this perfidious Chief.—He had scarcely gone eight leagues when a band of 3,000 horse and foot appeared suddenly and fired on the French. Our soldiers thinking they had to do with that small number only, pursued them, but they were soon surrounded by other bands, forming a total of more than 14,000 men: M. de Bourmont, not losing his presence of mind in this danger, advanced sword in hand, and charged the enemy himself at the head of his little troop. Courage and valor triumphed over superiority of numbers, and all were dispersed. We lost men in this affair; 17 were killed, among whom is the commander of a battalion who was Aid-de-Camp to Count Bourmont.

THE INSURRECTION IN ALBANIA.

BELGRADE, July 25.

According to the latest accounts received here from Albania, the Grand Vizier was advancing rapidly against Sophia, to act from thence chiefly against the Pacha of Scutari, whom the Porte considers as the support of the insurrection.

The Pacha, however, is well prepared, and, as these accounts say, is not resolved to wait for the troops of the Government in his Pachalik, but to go boldly to meet them in the field. He and his troops are eager for battle, and animated with hatred of the present Turkish Government, so that the encounter may be expected to be very sanguinary. From Janina, where Emir Pacha, the Grand Vizier's son, with his adherents, was defeated with great loss by the rebels, there is no news whatever, because the communications with that part of the country are wholly suspended, and the letters that are received through private channels make no mention of the state of affairs, because the writers are afraid of their being intercepted. Letters from Bitolia, however, say, that the Grand Vizier had sent a separate corps to the assistance of his son, while he was himself gone against the Pacha of Scutari.

From the National Gazette.

The Duke of Orleans at Philadelphia.

The Duke of Orleans, now King of France, spent several months in Philadelphia, in the year 1796. His whole conduct here was devoid of pride or discontent. The times seemed to indicate a total loss of rank and fortune; yet he was cheerful and resigned; nothing, indeed, could be more unpresuming and gentlemanly than his demeanor here. My intercourse with him was frequent.—He came to Philadelphia from Hamburgh in the ship America, commanded by Captain Ewing.—On landing, he was invited by David Coningham, Esq., now alive, to lodge at his house in Front street, where he was visited by many gentlemen of the city, and entertained very hospitably for several weeks. Mr. Coningham, as one of the house of Coningham & Nesbitt, was consignee and owner of the ship.

Not long after his arrival in Philadelphia, he was joined by his two brothers, the Dukes de Monpensier and Beaujolois. These young princes had been confined by the authorities of France, in the Chateau D'If, situate on an island in the Mediterranean, opposite to Marseilles, and obtained their liberty on condition of going to America. For want of a better conveyance, they took their passage in a brig that had on board upwards of a hundred of our countrymen, just released from slavery at Algiers. They bore their exile with becoming fortitude, appearing like their elder brother, submissive and cheerful. I saw them often in society. On one occasion, meeting the three brothers in the street, Mr. D'Orleans (for so the elder brother was always called) told me that he had just heard that his good friend Captain Ewing, of the ship America, was at the wharf on his return from Hamburgh, and that he wished to take him by the hand, and introduce his brothers to him. I accompanied them to Ross' wharf, where the America had that moment hauled in. Captain Ewing came on shore, and was received by Mr. D'Orleans with the warmest cordiality, and presented to the brothers. This evidence of kind feeling on the part of the princes, and total absence of all pride or notion of superiority, showed that in them exalted birth, and royal education, were no obstacles to the adoption of our own republican manners.

Shortly after, they traveled all three on horseback to Pittsburgh. I saw them pass along Market street, equipt as Western traders then used to ride—having a blanket over the saddle, and their saddle bags on each side. When they returned, Mr. D'Orleans hired a very humble apartment in Fourth near Prune street, where I visited him.—He did me the favor to trace the route he had just taken, on a map that hung in his room, and told me that they managed very well along the road; taking care of themselves at the taverns, and leaving their horses to be groomed by the only servant they had with them. "We could have done very well," said he, "without any servant, had we not been anxious about our horses."

These distinguished exiles afterwards descended the Mississippi, and went to the Havana, and from thence to Cadiz; and subsequently, having made their peace with the brothers of Louis XVI., the present King Philip married a princess of the reigning Bourbons of Naples.

We had in Philadelphia at the time they were here, Talleyrand, the Duke de Liancourt, Volney, De Noailles, Talon, and many others; most of whom returned to France, and played a part in the post-republican scenes of the revolutionary drama.

It is worthy of remark, that the King of England and the King of France have both been in Philadelphia.

MICHIGAN TERRITORY.

Population.—The population of the Territory, at the present time, cannot be stated with exactness, the census not having been completed. The returns which have been made, however, show an increase from 1820, to which there can be found few parallels. In our own city, for instance, the census for 1820 returned 1422; that of 1830 returns 2222; a gain of 564 per cent. In Oakland county, the population, in 1820, was 330; in 1830, it will approach 6000. The first house in Pontiack, the county seat of this county, was built in Dec. 1818; in March 1819, there were only five families. In Monroe, in 1820, there were 1833 inhabitants; the present number is computed at 3500. Washtenaw, in 1820, was a wilderness; in 1830, there are 4100 inhabitants; the population of Ann Arbor, the first house in which was erected in 1823, is 350; of Ypsilanti, a town beautifully located on the Huron, 240. In Macomb, there were in 1820, 898; this census will probably show an increase of from fifteen to eighteen hundred. The population of the country proposed to be included in the New Territory, was estimated by the Committee of Congress in their report last winter, at between six and seven thousand. If that Territory should be constituted as then proposed, and the number in the St. Joseph's be estimated at eight thousand, and it is a moderate estimate in the judgment of many, there would be left to us a total of thirty-two thousand; the number in the whole Territory now being about 38,500.

Character of the Population.—With the exception of the French in the counties of Wayne and Monroe, the inhabitants are mostly emigrants from New York, Ohio, and the New England States.—The last year, some Englishmen settled in the St. Joseph region, and many more have come in the present season. There are also a few Swiss.—The foreigners, who have come in this year, have brought considerable amounts of specie.—Northwestern Jour.

A useful Hint.—"How are all your family, John, Mrs. Clod and her little ones," said an office-seeking lawyer to a man in his neighborhood, who was employed in mending the public road. "Pretty well, I thank you," says he, "I'm glad to hear it," says the lawyer—"what's the news?" "Why I guess," replied John, "we shall have an election soon." "Why so?" "Because you are so glad that Mrs. Clod and her little ones are well," returned the laborer, with a look that told the lawyer he had better be off.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

FRIDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 1, 1830.

CALVARY.—Dunlap's Painting of "Calvary, or a Moment before the Crucifixion," is now exhibiting at Mr. Bond's Concert Hall, in Penn street.—It is said that this painting has been more admired than any other by the same artist. All those who visited Dunlap's painting of the "Bearing of the Cross," will, no doubt, be highly gratified by witnessing this representation of the scene immediately preceding the Crucifixion.

FOREIGN NEWS.—Being convinced, by the eager inquiries of our friends, that the recent occurrences in France are highly interesting, and engross much of their attention, we have devoted a large portion of our previous papers to those subjects.—In this paper will be found additional intelligence from France, Spain, Algiers, and Turkey in Europe. In France, we may confidently trust that revolutionary movements have terminated, and that the people of that beautiful country will prosper under the republican reign of Philip the First. In Spain, also, we may hope that a more liberal government will prevail. In Algiers, the French arms are extending their dominion over every part of that delightful country: Oran, Constantina, and Bona, have submitted, and thus a point d'appui has been established, from which civilization will gradually spread over the whole North of Africa.

We have selected, from the National Gazette, a very interesting account of the Duke of Orleans, now King of France, while in America. The present Kings of England and France are the first European sovereigns who have visited America, and the latter is the only one who has been in Pittsburgh. We have a distinct recollection of seeing him. Little did we then dream that the man who, in consequence of one revolution, was wandering through our country, an undistinguished individual, should, by another revolution, be called to reign over thirty millions of people; and yet both these revolutions were produced by the same spirit of liberty, and partly by the same men. But so it is. "History is more wonderful than fiction."

TICKETS.—In another column our readers will find the names of the different candidates for Congress and the Legislature. To one set of these candidates we have affixed no name, for the simple reason that their supporters have not settled among themselves the appropriate cognomination. The Mercury calls this ticket the Working Men's, the Democrat styles it the Democratic, and the Statesman appears to be in as great difficulty as we are, and suffers it to go to the world without a name.—When the friends of the ticket differ thus in their opinions, it would be presumptuous in us to decide for them.

WALTER FORWARD.—The following correspondence between this gentleman and a number of his fellow citizens, we publish in compliance with the request of several of his friends. Without becoming the partisan of Mr. Forward, we must remark, that modesty is not a characteristic of the request that he would decline in favor of Robert T. Stewart.

Pittsburgh, September 23, 1830.

TO WALTER FORWARD, Esquire.

Sir:—The undersigned, your personal and political friends, believing that your election, at the present crisis, is extremely doubtful, and being anxious that your TALENTS should not be lost to the district by an unsuccessful election, of which your enemies would not fail to take advantage at some subsequent period, and knowing that your former friends and supporters are greatly divided, we respectfully but earnestly request you to decline standing a poll for Congress at the ensuing election.

With the highest respect for your personal and political character, we are your friends and obedient servants,

Owen Aston, Samuel Fahnestock, Hugh Greenfield, Joseph Barnett, Wm. Steele, Chs. Von Bonnhorst, Samuel Pettigrew, B. Troost, F. Cotter, P. Doran, S. Keller, Robert Stewart, Nichs. Griffith, Samuel Cover, C. Gleim, S. R. Holmes, S. Kingston, John S. Irwin, Samuel Wood, Thomas Wynn, Jno. Anderson.

MR. FORWARD'S ANSWER.

Pittsburgh, September 24, 1830.

GENTLEMEN:—Your letter requesting me to withdraw my name as a candidate for congress, has been received and maturely considered. The kind and respectful manner in which your wishes have been communicated, demands from me a frank and explicit answer. It shall be given with a freedom allowable among friends, and especially due to those who have evinced a concern in my personal welfare.

At the time of my nomination at Butler, I was lying ill in the country, where I had been the preceding week. I had not been apprised that a meeting of delegates was even contemplated.—But finding my name announced as a candidate, it was necessary that my acceptance or refusal of the nomination, should be made known. I knew that the views of others had been disappointed, and sufficient had already occurred to show that my election would not be permitted, without a struggle. In regard to myself, you, gentlemen, know that a seat in Congress promises no pecuniary benefit. It would be attended with a certain sacrifice. But as a member of a community, whose interests are, in a very peculiar manner, implicated in the policy of the National Government, I believed my course ought to be taken with some reference to those interests. Accordingly I consulted a number of the Manufacturers of the city, and Farmers from the country, requesting their advice, as to the acceptance of the nomination. They expressed a DESIRE that I should be a candidate.—They were men who had no private or party purpose to answer, and whose opinion could be influenced by no consideration, other than that of the public good. It was in deference to claims thus made, that I finally CONSENTED to become a candidate.

Under these circumstances, you must see that the prospect of failure or success, ought not alone to influence my course. If my being a candidate were the result of private consideration, originating with, or relating to myself, it would rest with me to continue or withdraw my name from the contest. But the fact is otherwise. My nomination was not sought by me. I have neither canvassed for favor, nor counteracted opposition. The grounds upon which my mind was made up, were PUBLIC and NATIONAL. They were such as involved my duty as a citizen—such as concerned you, and every other man in the district, as well as myself. I submit to you, then, whether, without any change in the circumstances which influenced my determination in the first instance, I am now at liberty to withdraw? I feel that it would be a desertion of my own principles—that it would be making the election a subject of private arrangement, and saying to the people, that they can only vote for me by permission.

I am not aware that the Farmers and Manufacturers of the district entertain a wish that I should decline. They have great interests to be consulted. I can say, without incurring the charge of vanity, that my abilities, such as they are, have been faithfully devoted to the defence of those interests. I adhere to them still, and do not feel at liberty, by my own act, to compromit their claims even to my poor services. If the people do not require those services they will say so by their votes, and whatever may be the event of the election, I shall not complain. I have neither time nor money to devote to this contest. I ask no man's suffrage as a mere personal favor, nor can I requite it as such. I am willing—quite willing—that my pretensions should be postponed upon the ground of the public interest; but I will not recognize any claim whatever, that does not refer to and involve that interest. The circumstances now disclosed, some of which were unknown to you, will, I trust, satisfy you that I have not erred in my resolution.

I AM A CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS.

The receipt of your letter is not regretted. It has enabled me to express my feelings and views to you, to be understood by the people.

I am, gentlemen, with sentiments of the highest esteem, your friend and obedient servant,

WALTER FORWARD.

To Messrs. Owen Aston, Samuel Fahnestock, Hugh Greenfield, and others.

Pittsburgh, September 24, 1830.

TO WALTER FORWARD, Esquire.

Dear Sir:—The subscribers, having been informed that a certain individual is now circulating a paper calling upon you to decline standing a poll for Congress, are induced to express their sincere desire that you will not comply with such a request, and their firm belief, based upon the intelligence which they have received from all parts of the district, that your election will be consummated by the suffrages of your fellow citizens. The deep interest which is felt through the nation at large, that this great manufacturing community should be adequately represented, renders it an incumbent duty that you should not decline. We are, therefore, induced earnestly to request that you will continue to be a candidate.

Whilst we find the south represented by such men as Hayne, M'Duffie, and others, of equal intellectual powers, we shall not be among those who will voluntarily risk the sacrifice of our manufacturing city, by sending a representation of men of secondary abilities to Congress.

It cannot have escaped your notice, that there seems a determined effort on the part of the south, not merely to prostrate the protective system of duties, but likewise to destroy that great system of Internal Improvement, so emphatically called National. It is in support of these, that the best energies of the nation are required; and to which we had hoped that the efforts of your powerful mind would, on a future day, be again directed. The dangerous doctrines which, by rendering the states independent in their exercise of powers, equally of acts of Congress, and of treaties with independent nations, tend to sap the foundations of the Union, and excite domestic commotions; and render it necessary that experienced and talented men should alone have a seat in the National Legislature. In questions of constitutional construction—of state rights—of the sacred and binding effect of treaties, questions involving the safety and durability of the Union, no less than the national character for virtue, humanity, and a strict adherence to compacts, it were worse than useless to send a representation of men, who, so far from being accustomed to the investigation of such questions, could scarcely comprehend the terms in which they would be conveyed. It is to all these questions and others equally arduous that the attention of the nation is now called. It is in defence of the principles connected with these subjects that your services are now required.

We have assured our fellow-citizens, that you were in favor of the national system; of an adherance to the Union; and of sustaining those principles that would conserve the honor and humanity of the government, and best comport with the national faith. We have assured them that you would readily forego your private interests, and become a candidate for Congress, on the side of the national cause.

We recognize in you, one whose habits, feelings and principles identify you with the mass of your fellow-citizens; and we are anxious to show, by your election, that wealth and aristocracy are not passports to popular favor, in this republican community. Your answer will be anxiously looked for. We remain, respectfully, your fellow-citizens.

TO WALTER FORWARD, Esquire.

Dear Sir:—Having been informed that a letter has been addressed to you, requesting that you will decline being a candidate for Congress: We respectfully request that you will not decline, but gratify your real friends, personal and political, by continuing in the field as a candidate. Believing this to be the desire of a majority of your fellow-citizens, We remain, very respectfully, &c.

MR. FORWARD'S REPLY TO THE ABOVE LETTERS.

Pittsburgh, September 25, 1830.

GENTLEMEN:—In reply to your letter of yesterday, I can only say to you, that I have not ceased to be a candidate for Congress, and have no intention of declining. My reasons for not withdrawing, are stated in my answer to the request to which you allude, and to which I beg leave to refer you. I shall ever highly appreciate the friendly sentiments which you have expressed toward me, and the kind and respectful terms in which you have been pleased to address me. I am, gentlemen, with great respect, your obedient servant,

WALTER FORWARD.

Progress of the Silk Culture.—An incident occurred in our office a day or two since, which we wish all the people in the United States could have witnessed. It was the exhibition of a specimen of American Silk. Mr. Rapp, the respectable head of the Society at Economy, in Pennsylvania, paid us a visit, wearing a most beautiful figured black silk vest, and black silk handkerchief, the material of which was made, from the worm to the loom, by his society. In a conversation with him he remarked that they found no difficulty in any branch of the silk culture; that it was not more difficult than raising wheat, and much less laborious; and that he had little doubt that we should export silk in ten years. We feel assured, that no person who saw the vest and handkerchief, and heard Mr. Rapp's remarks upon the subject, could have harbored a doubt for another moment of the practicability of cultivating silk, as a staple, in the United States.—American Farmer.

New Orleans, Sept. 4.—The bills of mortality obtained from the Sextons of the Catholic and Protestant Cemeteries during the past week, show an increase of one third; the number of deaths together amount to eighty-eight. We are sorry to say that the malignancy of the prevailing epidemic has greatly increased, and owing to the sudden change of weather last Sunday, several invalids have taken relapses and therewith ended life.—From the Mayor's office, the sick that have been sent to the hospitals average twelve a day.

From the report made at the Mayor's office by the commissary of suburb St. Mary, it appears that 145 men, and 11 women, are sick, at the Charity Hospital.

Italian Dinner.—A brilliant dinner of Italian gentlemen took place in New York, the 22d inst. at the Shakspeare Hotel, Fulton street, for the purpose of celebrating the late events of France, which the Italians look upon as the dawn of their emancipation from the Austro-Bourbonic yoke, under which their learned, beautiful and unhappy country is laboring. The tri-colored flag of the kingdom of Italy when governed by Napoleon, was floating between those of regenerated France and the United States of America. The utmost joy, and the best order, reigned in this patriotic meeting, at which some foreigners of distinction were present.

COLOMBIA.

The New York Journal of Commerce contains various extracts of letters from Carthagena, from July 30th to Aug. 12th, which represent the condition of this distracted republic as becoming worse and worse. One of them says—

"In one of the nightly meetings of the Junta of Demagogues at Bogota, it was deliberately proposed and unanimously agreed to murder Gen. Rafeal Urdaneta, Senor Restrepo, Senor Castillo, all late Ministers of State; Senor Gove, Deputy of Congress; Marino and Pepe Paris; the American Minister, Col. Moore; the British Secretary of Legation, Col. Campbell; and two other foreigners, one of them Mr. Illingsworth—the name of the other two I have not been able to learn. This horrible massacre was to have taken place at a masked ball, to be given in honor of the President. But happily, Urdaneta discovered the plot in time to frustrate its abominable purpose, and the ball was put off. Urdaneta has sold every thing, and is about to retire with his family to the country, in the hope of being thus enabled to preserve his life from the poignard of the assassin."

Another mentions that a plot was discovered in Carthagena, in the end of July, to assassinate Bolivar and all the military chiefs friendly to him.—There seems to be a better reason than any of the pretexts heretofore assigned, for Bolivar's remaining in the country which is kept in a constant fermentation by his presence. It is stated that his family, from the time of the conquest, have possessed the copper mines of Aroa. We have been told by an intelligent gentleman well acquainted with the affairs, political and local, of Colombia, that there was a claimant of these mines, supposed to be the rightful heir, who had been a private soldier in the army, and whose existence was not an agreeable circumstance to the Liberator.—However this may be, it seems that the right to the property has been and remains the subject of litigation, and has been referred to a military tribunal, constituted by Paez, the decision of which has not been promulgated.

It is also observed in one of these letters, that Bolivar would stand but a poor chance of receiving the $30,000 per annum, voted by Congress, in the disorganized state of the country. Perhaps, if order was fully restored, the treasury department might be inclined to make investigations, which would induce them to propose a set off. For though he refused the million offered by Peru, he had every treasury in the country under his free and arbitrary control, and has never accounted for his doings. But we do not mean to intimate that he is a debtor to Colombia, as we have no data on which to found such a supposition.

VARIOUS MATTERS.

Rail Roads.—About 1000 men are now employed in making the Albany and Schenectady Rail Road, which, it is expected, will be completed next year. The stock has recently advanced 10 per cent.

Doctors Wainwright, Wilson, and Milnor, are mentioned as the most prominent of the New York Clergy, likely to succeed Bishop Hobart in the Episcopal office.

"One of the largest political meetings ever held" in Albany, according to the Mechanics' and Working Mens' Advocate of that place, composed too of "friends of the National Administration," assembled at the Capitol, on Tuesday evening, and passed "by acclamation," resolutions approving the nomination of E. Root, and N. Pitcher, for Governor and Lieutenant Governor of New York.

Georgia gold to the amount 230,000 dollars has been received in Augusta, in that state, within the last nine months.

The Cherokee Phœnix of the 4th instant, says: "It would seem that the Government has entirely failed in its attempts to remove the intruders.—There are now as many at the mines as there ever were before. Many of those on the line who have been burnt out, declare their intention of remaining and rebuilding."

Manner of making Castor Oil very palatable to Children.—Take the quantity of oil you purpose for the dose, and boil it for a few minutes in an equal quantity of milk, then sweeten with a little sugar. When the mixture has cooled, stir it well, and give it to the child.

Died,

In Allegheny-town, on Tuesday last, in the 11th year of her age, ELIZA CAROLINE, daughter of William T. Hays, Esq., of Waynesburgh, Pa

DIED, at Cincinnati, on the 30th ult. Lieutenant WILLIAM REYNOLDS, of the U. S. Army. The deceased was put on shore at this place about nine o'clock on the night previous, from off the steam boat Sylph, commanded by Capt. Benjamin Porter. The conduct of the captain upon this occasion, was such as calls for the decided disapprobation of every individual in the community; it was a display of groveling meanness and fiend-like cruelty, calculated to shock the feelings even of the cruel. The deceased was carried by order of the Captain from the boat, and laid on the wharf, speechless, exposed to the elements, without any attempt on the part of the Captain to procure him a shelter, and without any desire that any of our citizens should render him any attention; he had him thrown upon the wharf, and put out immediately without saying one word about the unfortunate victim of his hellish cruelty, farther than to make a false and malicious statement with regard to the conduct of the deceased, calculated to make an unfavorable impression on the minds of the citizens who were present. It is reserved for eternity to reveal, fully, the turpitude of the Captain's conduct on this occasion.

The deceased was taken from the wharf by the Rev. George Palmer, to his dwelling, under whose hospitable roof he received every necessary attention until his death. He was interred in the burying ground at this place, with military honors, by the Infantry company under the command of Capt. Jolly, attended by a large concourse of citizens.

It appears from the papers in his possession, that he was commissioned a 2d Lieutenant, in the 1st Regiment, United States Infantry, in January 1824, since which time he was promoted to 1st Lieutenant; that about the 1st of March last he forwarded his resignation, which was accepted by the President, to take effect on the 1st of August, it also appears from his papers, that he was an officer of high standing of his rank, having at one time acted as Assistant Commissary, Aid to General Atkinson, and at one time Assistant Adjutant General.

He stated, previous to his death, that his parents were dead; that he had two brothers and two sisters in the State of Delaware; no private papers have been found in his possession, but a great variety relating to his official business; his trunk containing a variety of clothing and other articles, are in the care of Mr. Palmer, where they will remain until his relations are heard from. Twenty-three dollars and thirty cents in money was also found in his possession—he stated that he had been robbed of $150 at Louisville.—Cincinnati paper.

Pittsburgh, October 1, 1830—3t.

ADELPHE SEMINARY.

THIS institution, under the sole direction of Mr. and Mrs. Quinan, commenced its scholastic year the first of September, with such new arrangements as it is hoped will insure general approbation.

The system of instruction adopted, is calculated to prepare the pupils for the real business of life, and every study has the tendency of exercising their powers of judgment and reason, while, at the same time, what are usually considered accomplishments, the languages, music, drawing, and polished habits, are not overlooked. The circumstance of Mrs. Quinan's having received her education in Paris, peculiarly fits her for such a task.

It is the great object of the Principals, to instruct their pupils so that they may become useful and virtuous members of society; and in the use of the means of enforcing their precepts, although they remember that "the heart of man is utterly depraved and wicked," yet no coercive measures are adopted, until all others fail. The system is a parental one: this carries with it its own explanation, and admits of no change.

The studies of the Seminary are such as are pursued at the best institutions, and are imparted both by lecture and recitations.

There are two vacations in the year—one of two weeks, commencing the Saturday preceding Christmas; the other, the month of August. Those who choose are, however, privileged to remain at the institution—at no other time will a pupil be permitted to sleep from under its roof. To afford a facility to the friends of the pupils witnessing their progress, &c. Monday in every two weeks will be set apart as days of visitation. It is presumed that this will obviate the necessity of calling upon the pupils at such other times as would break in upon the order of their studies, &c.

Terms, yearly—to be paid half yearly in advance.

English Tuition and Board,	$130
French Language or Drawing,	12
Music,	25

Physicians and Dentists bills, use of musical instruments, washing and outfit, &c. at the charge of the pupils. All engagements considered as yearly.

Christopher Cowan, Benjamin Page, James Brown, Robert Galway, Isaac Lightner, and John Towne, Esquires, and Doctors Simpson and John H. Irwin, Pittsburgh; A. Punctual attendance will be required, and examinations on the business of the week, will be entered into every Friday, after which, printed bulletins will be given to the pupils, to be presented to their Parents.

M. M'S. intends to open an Evening School the 1st of October; persons desirous of attending will please to apply immediately.

For the consideration of Classical students, he publishes the subjoined copy of a certificate in his possession. It is from the late lamented President of Mt. St. Mary's College, Md.

This is to certify that the bearer, MICHAEL M'SHARRY, has resided as a Student at Mt. St. Mary's for the last four years, during which time his deportment has been such as to secure the esteem and friendship of all those with whom he lived. His health has suffered considerably, and he finds it necessary to relinquish his studies, and seek its restoration, by a change of air and avocation. His talents are very good, and he is fully capable of teaching a school in which Latin and Greek would form a part of the system of Education. He carries with him the best wishes of all the Professors and Students of Mt. St. Mary's.

Given under my hand, this 1st day of July, 1828.

MICHAEL D. EGAN,
President Mt. St. Mary's.

Valuable Farm and Mills FOR SALE,

SITUATE on Crow's Run, two miles from the Ohio river, and one mile and a half from the great Western road. The farm contains about 250 acres, a great proportion of which is good upland for raising grain, with sufficient bottom land for meadows. Besides the Grist and Saw Mills, there are on the premises a comfortable Dwelling-House and Store-House, a young Orchard planted, and about twelve acres of meadow in cultivation. The Grist Mill has two pair of stones, and having both branches of the creek, is able to go longer than any mill in the neighborhood. The Saw Mill is in good order, and may be made very productive; there being a great demand for sawed stuff by boat-builders and others in the vicinity. The road from Pittsburgh to Beaver, and from Beaver to Butler, Harmonie, and Freeport, passes through the place, which insures a supply of country work, and causes a great thoroughfare daily at the mills and store. Few places in the western country possess more advantages. The terms will be reasonable. Apply to JOHN R. SHANNON, Esq., Beaver, GEO. COCHRAN, of R'd, Pittsburgh, or the subscriber, on the premises. TO MY PATRONS AND THE PUBLIC.

HAVING been appointed Deputy Surveyor, in and for the District composed of the county of Allegheny, I deem it necessary to announce, that my SEMINARY for young Ladies and Gentlemen, will be continued as usual, at my residence, No. 84 Fourth street, a few doors from Doctor Dawson's Chemical Warehouse, that the school will be principally conducted and superintended by me, and also that, when called on business, it will be conducted by my Assistant, who must be an able and judicious Instructer. In the Institution will be taught the following branches, which constitute a liberal and scientific education, viz: Penmanship, English Grammar, Geography, with its application to Astronomy, Mapping, &c. and Mercantile transactions in general, together with the Mathematics.

In relation to the course of instruction, particular attention will be paid to the most essential department of education, not only in teaching the most concise and approved methods of Arithmetical Calculation, and of arranging and keeping accounts in trade and commerce, but also in explaining these methods, that the pupil may know how to proceed by reason as well as by rule; for without this, no permanent benefits can be derived.

Having recently purchased a handsome pair of Globes, students will derive a peculiar advantage, in acquiring a sound knowledge of Geography, Practical Astronomy, and the use of the Globes. Students at the study of Surreying, will also have an excellent opportunity afforded them, in acquiring a radical knowlege of the Theory and Practice of that invaluable ART.

GEO. H. KEERL.

CERTIFICATES.

I have known the Rheumatic Plaster, prepared by Mr. George H. Keerl, applied with prompt and perfect relief, in some cases of severe Rheumatic Pain. THOMAS H. WRIGHT, M. D.

Mr. George H. Keerl:

DEAR SIR—You request my opinion of your Plaster Composition, which you state has been highly beneficial in the relief of Rheumatism. If its application be restricted to the chronic form of that affection, I have not the least doubt of its efficacy. Its operation is that of a gentle stimulant, maintaining an equality of temperature in the part to which it is applied, and at the same time keeping the surface soft and perspirable. Compositions possessing similar properties, have long been esteemed by medical men. I know of none better suited to that end, than the one which you have exhibited to me.

Being violently attacked with Rheumatism, about five years ago, and the pain in my breast very severe, I was induced to try Mr. Keerl's Rheumatic Plaster, when one application afforded me perfect relief. J. H. POOR.

Last winter I labored under a painful attack of Rheumatism, which lasted for some time. On application to Mr. George H. Keerl, I obtained his Rheumatic Plaster, which relieved me entirely from pain, soon after its application.
